Corrections of errors<sup>1</sup>

April 2024

The following error unfortunately exists in all current versions of the book.

Page 132: The second inequality from the top is currently

$$(1 - q_2)r' + q_2x' < (1 - q_1)r + q_1x.$$

It should be

$$(1 - q_2)r + q_2x < (1 - q_2)r' + q_2x'.$$

The following errors may exist in the current print version of the book. To my knowledge, all electronic versions have already corrected them.

Pages 2, 192, 205: “Piketty” instead of “Piketti”.

Page 45: “Nobody Knows Anything” instead of “Nobody Knows Nothing”. Of course, the former is the grammatically correct version. I originally borrowed the quote from a source that apparently misquoted Goldman, thinking he may have used a colloquial form. It turns out that Goldman used the grammatically correct version.

Page 130: “this expression attains a maximum of  $A(1-q)-q > 0$ ” instead of “this expression attains a maximum of  $A(1-q) > 0$ ”.
